

THE AMERICAN REVIEW OF POLITICS

Volume 23

Winter, 2002

John Green, The University of Akron
Special Issue Editor

CONTENTS

Political Parties and Political Change

Introduction: About This Special Issue Thomas R. Marshall, Editor .....	303
Timing an Election: The Impact on the Party in Government Steven D. Roper and Christopher Andrews .....	305
Explaining Change in Communist Successor Parties: Political Environment versus Party Organization? John Ishiyama .....	319
Race, Redistricting, and Re-Election: The Fate of White Incumbent Democrats in the 1994 Congressional Elections L. Marvin Overby and Robert D. Brown .....	337
Declining Voter Turnout in Comparative Perspective: A Result of Converging Party Profiles? Miki Caul Kittilson .....	355
Party Change and Policy Reform: Welfare Programs in the American States Jill Clark and Thomas H. Little .....	379