

We agree it's small, but the question is: Are you taking advantage of it?

That old saw "It's small world" has never been more true than it is today. It's relatively simple to visit any part of our shrinking planet. And the costs of traveling are shrinking also. Cases in point are the two tours offered by your Alumni Association which has been in the business for a decade. Why not sign up and see this small world of ours?

Come fly with us this summer. Your Alumni Association tours (our seven-teenth and eighteenth) are going to Europe. If you've never been, it's time you went. And if you've been before, then we don't have to tell you how enjoyable it can be. The economy rates are possible because of the group plan—you travel with fellow Sooners. Your one fee covers all transportation (by jet mostly), hotels (first class with bath), meals, sightseeing, tips and taxes, and a tour leader who takes care of everything. Don't put it off. Europe, whether you choose the Heart of Europe tour or the Scandinavian tour, is now inexpensively accessible. You owe it to yourself to see it. Go on.

Heart of Europe

22 days in England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, and Spain. Depart New York June 7; return June 28. Cost is $849, which includes cost for all accommodations. Get to know the historic cities of London, Paris, Rome, Berlin, Madrid, Florence, Venice, Lucerne. See East Berlin on the other side of the Wall; visit Runnymede, Windsor Castle, Shakespeare country, the palace at Versailles; motor through the Alps; take a gondola in Venice; enjoy the scenic train ride from Venice to Florence; see Toledo, Spain. And there's plenty of free time.

Scandinavia

22 days in Scandinavia. Depart New York Aug. 3; return Aug. 24. Cost is $995. From New York you visit Edinburgh, Scotland; Bergen, Stalheim, Sogndal, and Oslo, Norway, taking in the incomparable beauty of the fjords by land and water; Stockholm and Gothenburg, Sweden; Aalborg, Vejle, and Copenhagen in Denmark. The scenery is breathtaking, the weather easily beats Oklahoma's, and your traveling companions will enhance a memorable journey. In addition to the special sightseeing tours, about one-fourth of your time is free. You're on your own.
