

BOOKS FOR CHRISTMAS

Out of bright ideas for those last-minute gifts on your holiday shopping list? University of Oklahoma Press books come in all shapes, sizes, prices and interests, easy to choose, simple to mail, guaranteed unbreakable, and sure to please.

The Santa Fe and Taos Colonies
Age of the Muses, 1900-1942

By Arrell Morgan Gibson

"A rich and fascinating story, well told, fully documented, and clearly written. Gibson catches the spirit of place that animated this incredible variety of artists who continued the history and legend of an old and rich tradition." — Oklahoma Home-Garden. "A book written with great historical accuracy and objectivity . . . valuable to all Taos-Santa Fe addicts." — Amarillo News. 313 pages, color and black-and-white illustrations.

$24.95

The Rocky Mountains
A Vision for Artists in the 19th Century

By Patricia Trenton and Peter H. Hassrick

Profusely illustrated with color plates and black-and-white reproductions, this book focuses on the artists who were lured to the West from the eastern seaboard and Europe. "The Rocky Mountains is one of those exceptional volumes which makes an all too infrequent appearance these days . . .

it has quality and substance and can be read more than once." — Salt Lake Tribune. ". . . represents the best of what the regional presses can do . . . a fascinating work." — Denver Post. 437 pages, color and black-and-white illustrations.
$65.00

Singing Cowboys and All That Jazz
By William W. Savage, Jr.

Bob Wills, Gene Autry, Hoyt Axton, Woody Guthrie, Count Basie, Patti Page, Kay Starr and Elvin Bishop are among the many well-known personalities included in this captivating book about the music world. "Savage, an academic historian, has surveyed popular music in Oklahoma and by Oklahomans in the last few decades in brief and very readable fashion." — Choice. "This fact-packed volume will come to be appreciated more as the years go by and the point of historian Savage's thesis is more widely reognized." — Sunday Oklahoman. "The text is so engaging, the organization so good, that one continually wants more." — Texas Ragg. 197 pages, black-and-white line drawings.

$14.95

Sarah Winnemucca of the Northern Paiutes
By Gae Whitney Canfield

In this first full-scale biography of the beautiful and persuasive daughter of a Northern Paiute chief in western Nevada, Sarah is revealed as both a traditional Indian woman and a liberated activist. "Gae Whitney Canfield has written a compelling story of a remarkable woman." — Publishers Weekly. ". . . a fascinating study of Sarah Winnemucca . . . a memorable portrait of an original Indian woman." — Booklist. 320 pages.
$19.95

Letters to Bill
On University Administration
By George Lynn Cross

Questions about his longevity as president of the University of Oklahoma and his convictions about academic administration led Dr. Cross to write this book. Couching his thoughts in letters of sympathetic and affectionate caveat to a fictional nephew Bill, who recently became a university president, Cross offers both wit and wisdom developed during a long life of public service in the academic and corporate world. Especially moving is his letter on ethics. 264 pages.

$18.95

The Shaman Patterns of Siberian and Ojibway Healing
By John A. Grim

Written with a fine poetic feeling this informative book describes American Indian shamanic traditions, both historically and as they exist today. The author provides a valuable resource for readers who identify with American Indians confronting a modern technological society by explaining the nature of religious experience: cosmology, tribal sanction, ritual re-enactment and trance experience. 272 pages, illustrations.

$19.95

The Gift of the Sacred Pipe
Edited and illustrated
by Vera Louise Drysdale

The beautiful Drysdale paintings that fill the pages of this large-format volume highlight the dramatic elements of the ancient rituals of the Oglala Sioux. "Readers will enjoy the fine charcoal drawings which leave no doubt of the Sioux's priceless spiritual values." — Los Angeles Times. "In this large-type, coffee table edition, Drysdale has captured the awesome yet almost childlike spiritual quality of the Lakota." — Wichita Eagle-Beacon. "... an attractive work based on Black Elk's classic account of the Seven Rites of the Oglala Sioux." — Chicago Tribune Book World. "The illustrations, particularly those in color, have a somewhat dreamlike character quite in keeping with the legendary nature of the subject matter. They are minutely detailed and obviously done with a great deal of feeling and sympathy." — San Diego Union. 115 pages, color and black-and-white.

$29.95

Jackson Hole Journal
By Nathaniel Burt

This lively account of the transformation of Jackson Hole traces its evolution from a frontier community to the resort town of today. "In his highly personal memoir, poet, novelist, composer Nathaniel Burt charts the course of Jackson Hole, Wyoming, from exclusive dude ranches to popular resort." — Publishers Weekly. "... well-written memoir." — Library Journal. "Engaging reminiscences of pre-mass-tourism days in Jackson Hole ... leanly stylish and strongly evocative of a unique time-and-place." — Kirkus Review. 231 pages, illustrations.

$16.95

As in a Vision Masterworks of American Indian Art
By Edwin L. Wade,
Rennard Stickland,
and Carol Haralson

The authors skillfully blend examples of traditional Native American songs and prayers with nearly 200 color and black-and-white illustrations of ceremonial and functional objects from the Elizabeth Cole Butler Collection. Arranged in twelve categories, these objects are introduced with explanations of their significance in the lives of the people who created them. The modern reader is invited to share "the vision." 144 pages, color and black-and-white illustrations. (Published in cooperation with Philbrook Art Center, Tulsa.)

$19.95

American Autographs
By Charles Hamilton

Compiled in two splendid volumes by the world's foremost authority on autographs, American Autographs is the first of its type ever published. Included are examples of the writing of all the American presidents up to and including Ronald Reagan, the First Ladies from Martha Washington to Nancy Reagan, John Wilkes Booth and John Hinckley, Jr. — to name only a few. "This superb book represents perhaps the best work of Hamilton, generally acknowledged as the world's foremost expert on autographs." — Library Journal. "... fascinating indeed." — American Collector's Media. 644 pages, more than 2,000 illustrations.

$150.00

The Thunderstorm in Human Affairs
Second Edition, Enlarged
Edited by Edwin Kessler

Particularly important to the area commonly known as "tornado alley," this book includes chapters on floods; tornadoes; thunderstorms in agriculture and forest management; effect of wind on buildings; thunderstorms and aviation; programs for prediction, warning, and disaster preparedness; organization and major facilities for storm research; and lightning damage and protection. Valuable guidance also is offered on ways to mitigate the damage caused by strong winds, floods and lightning. 160 pages, color and black-and-white photographs, maps, charts, graphs, drawings and tables.

$24.95

Available from local bookstores or University of Oklahoma
Press
1005 Asp
Norman, OK 73019