CONTENTS

4 WITNESS AFTER DEATH

A body purported to be a Nazi war criminal is discovered in Brazil. The desaparecidos of Argentina are found in paupers' graves. Victims of a mass murderer are unearthed in Chicago. Whom do they call? Oklahoma's Clyde Snow.

12 A CAPITAL SUMMER

The Cortez A. M. Ewing Fellows went to Washington, D.C., last summer to work in congressional offices and learn all they could about the operation of their government. In the process, the Sooners had the time of their lives.

18 PRESIDENT'S LEADERSHIP CLASS

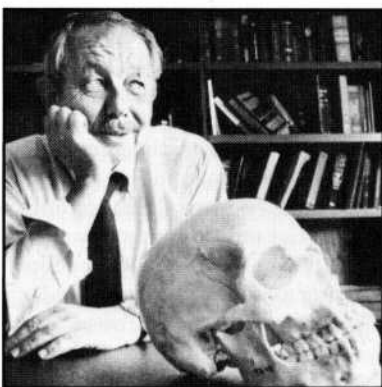

Twenty-five years ago, the idea was to attract the student leaders in Oklahoma high schools to the University. The plan worked, and in September the PLC alumni reconvened on the campus to celebrate, reminisce and laugh a lot.

23 THE EDUCATION OF WILLIAM MCGREW

A Norman boy who fell in love with nature as a Boy Scout and spent his summers at the OU Biological Station is now an internationally known expert on primates, as at home in the wilds of Africa as in his classroom in Scotland.

28 THE SEEDS OF EXCELLENCE

In this chapter from his new book on private giving to the University of Oklahoma, George L. Cross traces the contributions of the Neustadt family of Ardmore back to a young German immigrant who ran out of money going west.

ON THE COVER

Friends describe Clyde Snow as an "absent-minded professor;" his wife sees him as "a Renaissance man." He is first to be called when cases of violent or mysterious death defy conventional explanation. See "Witness After Death," Page 4.

Sooner Magazine is published quarterly in Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer by the University of Oklahoma Foundation, Inc., with private funds at no cost to the taxpayers of the State of Oklahoma. The magazine is printed by the Transcript Press, Norman, Oklahoma, intended primarily for private donors to the University of Oklahoma and life members of the University of Oklahoma Alumni Association.

Opinions expressed are those of the author and do not reflect the official position of the University of Oklahoma or of the University of Oklahoma Foundation, Inc.

Address all inquiries and changes of address to the Editor, 100 Timberdell Road, Norman, OK 73019. Letters-to-the-editor must be signed. Letters not intended for publication should be so marked.
