CONTENTS

4 EXPLORING THE GLOBAL VILLAGE

Americans, we learned in the mid-'80s, can't locate Kalamazoo, much less Timbuktu or the Caspian Sea. It's no surprise, therefore, that OU's Jim Goodman has led the crusade to restore geography to Oklahoma's classrooms.

10 MISSION OF MERCY

Victims of human rights atrocities are many and too often forgotten. But one young Mayan Indian from Guatemala has survived and been given a new chance in life because a group of dedicated Oklahomans refused to let him die.

17 TAKING THE HIGH ROAD

A distinguished professor emeritus takes a step back from the passions and politics that have engulfed the debate on educational reform in Oklahoma to ask the basic but largely ignored questions of what education is and what it is not.

21 THE EXCELLENT ADVENTURES OF ASIA EARNIE

The rapid westernization of postwar Japan was no accident. Foreign correspondent and Sooner alumnus Earnest Hoberecht worked very hard at transplanting the American lifestyle, and his success made him a Far East legend.

28 PRESERVING THE TALLGRASS PRAIRIE

Giant grasses 10 feet tall. Hundreds of species of animals on an almost limitless prairie stretching from southern Texas to Canada. Only a vestige of this natural heritage remains, preserved with the help of University scientists.

ON THE COVER

Education is not, says Lloyd Williams, entertainment, vocational training, baby-sitting, economic or social cure-alls. What then is Williams' definition of education? See "Taking the High Road in the Educational Debate" on Page 17.

Sooner Magazine is published quarterly by the University of Oklahoma Foundation Inc. with private funds at no cost to the taxpayers of the State of Oklahoma. The magazine is printed by the Transcript Press, Norman, Oklahoma, and is intended primarily for private donors to the University of Oklahoma and life members of the University of Oklahoma Alumni Association.

Opinions expressed are those of the author and do not reflect the official position of the University of Oklahoma or the University of Oklahoma Foundation Inc.

Address all inquiries and changes of address to the Editor, 100 Timberdell Road, Norman, OK 73019-0685. Letters-to-the-editor must be signed. Letters not intended for publication should be so marked.
