CALENDAR ART- One of the more interesting photographs in the 2003 University calendar is this ground-up view of the front of Evans Hall, the administration building where 11 of OU's 13 presidents have officed. The sculpture of President Arthur Grant Evans, for whom the building is named, is mounted above the door of this historic Collegiate gothic structure. The divisions of University Development and OU Printing Services have produced the calendars for the past five years to benefit campus landscaping activities.
