

A SNOWY DAY—It's hard to beat the perfect February snow in Oklahoma. Fluffy, moist, clinging to trees, shrubs and campus landmarks—and lasting a day-and-a-half, tops. The Native American guardian of Allan Houser's "May We Have Peace" at the Norman campus' Parrington Oval entrance may have trouble keeping his peacepipe lighted—but only for a little while.

