

HOMEWARD BOUND – OU fine arts dean Rich Taylor, known for roaming the Norman campus with camera at the ready, captured this view of the Allan Houser sculpture standing amid the mums in the Peggy V. Helmerich Park, east of Bizzell Memorial Library. The bronze work, which depicts a Navajo woman with her sheep and dog crossing a bridge, was a gift of OU graduates Earl Ziegler and his late wife, Fran. The park is endowed by a gift from the Helmerich family.
