- 4 THE HUMANS BEHIND HUMAN RELATIONS In 1969, Dr. George Henderson was ready to leave OU. Instead, he stayed and founded a department that has trained generations of students to recognize and combat discrimination through education.
- 9 RAINY DAY WOMAN An assistant professor in the College of Atmospheric and Geological Sciences is using a prestigious grant from the National Science Foundation to advance the science of rainfall prediction and to help students succeed by changing stereotypes of what it means to be a scientist.
- 13 A PANDEMIC DISRUPTS 'BUSINESS AS USUAL' The Price College of Business and the OU Center for Intelligence and National Security are hosting an online series, The Pandemic Threat: Risks and Impacts of COVID-19, focusing on the most critical issues of the pandemic.
- 18 THE NEUSTADT PRIZE TURNS 50 An upstart literary prize that was Sooner born and Sooner bred has reached the half-century mark and has gained international respect as the "Oklahoma Nobel." A new anthology captures 50 years in the words of the winning writers.
- 26 FAVORITE SON The only son of a Sooner who was part of Barry Switzer's 1985 national championship team, James Winchester took his father's inspiration and determination from Owen Field to a Super Bowl victory for the Kansas City Chiefs.
