IN EVERY ISSUE —

- 2 Sooner Shorts • News and Events
- 14 Sooner Nation • Gene Nora Jessen broke flying boundaries for women at OU, NASA and beyond.
- 24 The Big Idea • How do you make a lot of deep holes in the ground useful again? Bring naturally heated water to the surface for renewable energy.
- 32 Lest We Forget • . . . Jewel Wurtzbaugh: Scholar, teacher, eccentric.
- 33 Epilogue • “Synesthesia,” an immersive new exhibit at the Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art.

On the Cover • Choctaw, Okla., visual arts senior Elyse Eades’ stunning depiction of an African wild dog is but one example of scientific illustration, the subject of a new course collaboration between the University of Oklahoma School of Visual Arts and the Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History. Story on page 4.
