

Sooner roll call

Editor's note—Due to the limited space available to the magazine, a new system of abbreviations for the schools and colleges is introduced in this issue. These are: as for Arts and Sciences; fa for Fine Arts; sc for any science degree; eng for Engineering; pharm for Pharmacy; med for Medicine; ed for Education; he for Home Economics.

The closing date for this issue of The Sooner Magazine was September 17. The closing date for the next issue will be October 6. Please address to the editor any news happenings concerning Sooners. The editor welcomes kodak snaps of new Sooner babies. The Magazine belongs to the Association but it represents the Association only in the degree that each member becomes a reporter.

his old college, Lafayette, of Easton, Pennsylvania, and in 1910 returned there to be presented with his M. A. degree, granted after the presentation of his thesis, "Religion and Reality," an attempt to identify the spiritual world with the Noumenon of Kant, the great German philosopher.

In 1913 he came to the University of Oklahoma as the director of the extension division, and then began the work of laying a firm foundation for one of the most extensive plans of spreading education throughout the state to all citizens, and more particularly to those who are not permitted to take up work in residence at a college or university. Since 1927 the scope of extension work in Oklahoma has grown by leaps and bounds, showing an increase of more than 50 per cent in the number of per-
