There are those who believe that the university's destiny points towards Spanish-America and the Indian. Among the talented young Mexicans who have come to the university is Rafael Peña, '31 art, who has been commissioned by the Mexican government to do murals. Senor Peña held a one-man show at the school of art during April, his black and whites attracting wide attention for their satirical as well as artistic merit. Tending towards sculpture, there is a pronounced sculpturesque effect in his work, as demonstrated in his «Maternity,» shown on this page. Senor Peña is represented at the university with his mural «N E W S» in the University Press building
