

An interesting group of Sooners is shown on this page. On the upper row, to the left, is Lawrence W. Cole, '99as, the first Alumni Association president. Cole, who is now a professor of psychology at the University of Colorado, Boulder, was elected alumni president in 1899, the year he was graduated. Next to him is Maude Richman Calvert, '20M.S., who recently was selected to the Oklahoma Hall of Fame. She is a writer and educational expert. To the right is Wilmer Ragsdale, '34eng, who has become radio technician in the NBC studio in Chicago. On the lower row to the left is Grant Foreman, Muskogee, who has written three books for the University Press. He also was selected to the Oklahoma Hall of Fame this year. In the center is Charles Ittner, '30eng, who is one of the group of young engineers who recently constructed the large news sign board in Oklahoma City. To the right is Paul Walker, '12law, who has become head of the telephone division of the new communications board in Washington, D. C.
