

Down the campus east of the oval—in the foreground, the Geology building where many of the nation's pioneer geologists learned about rock structure