Class of '15

The Class of 1915 moved up a notch during the past month to go into a tie with the Class of 1921 for fifth place in Life Membership standings. It was tied for sixth, seventh and eighth positions with Classes of 1910 and 1922.

Hiram Impson,'15as, publisher of the McAlester Democrat and postmaster of McAlester, boosted his class into its higher position by becoming a Life Member of the University of Oklahoma association during the month. Mr. Impson is a member of the Alumni Advisory committee and is active in University affairs.

The Class of 1914 holds the top position with an even dozen memberships, a recapitulation shows. The Class of 1912 is second with eleven members. Fred Capshaw, who received his degree from the law school in 1914, is considered a member of that class instead of the Class of 1912 as was previously stated. He received a B.A. degree before being graduated from the law school, however.

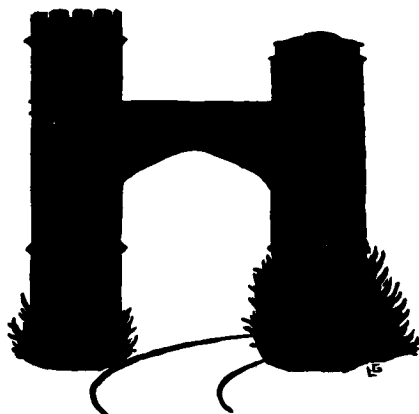

The Classes of 1920 and 1913 come next in Life Membership standings with ten and nine members, respectively.

A Life Membership costs only sixty dollars, payable either in a lump sum or five dollars a quarter. The fund is invested in high grade securities under the direction of Trustees E. R. Newby, Tom F. Carey and Neil R. Johnson. Only the income from the principal can be used for Association operating expenses.

A Life Membership carries with it a life subscription to The Sooner Magazine. It assists the association in the publication of the magazine and the quarterly bulletin. Among the multiple activities of the association are: maintains alumni files; maintains a teachers placement bureau; stimulates Alumni club activities; plans and directs Homecoming, Commencement and Class Reunions; maintains alumni headquarters in the Oklahoma Union; and plans and directs alumni projects.
