

to cover tuition and necessities. His being chosen a member of Phi Beta Kappa indicated the quality of his scholarship, in his arts and science work here. William G. Schmidt, professor of voice in the University, directed Bentonnelli's training here.

"Yes, Bentonnelli is a genius," Professor Schmidt remarked in discussing his successes. "He has a genius for hard work. I think that ninety per cent of his success is due to his dogged persistence in doing each task thoroughly and well. Of course his wonderful home background and the influence there made him the fine gentleman that he is and the true friend that I have found him to be."

When saying farewell to Italy which had been his home for nine years, Bentonnelli gave away many things that he thought would be useful to his friends there. To his teacher of German, Frau ———, he gave his phonograph. It was an instrument with an especially beautiful tone. She was tearful with joy to receive such a gift.

"Now when I have to go out to give German lessons," she said, "my poor blind husband will not be so lonely." Joseph's mother was very happy that he had remembered this kind old woman.

When asked, if she is glad that her son is again in America, Mrs. Benton beamed with delight,

"Well, what mother wouldn't be?"

YEAR BY YEAR

Dr. Charles L. Brown, '19bs, '21M.D., has resigned as associate professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan to accept a position as professor of medicine and director of the department of medicine at Temple University, Philadelphia.

A story expressing regret at the loss of Dr. Brown was recently carried in a University of Michigan journal. It follows:

It is with great regret that I announce the resignation of Dr. Charles L. Brown, Associate Professor of Internal Medicine, who leaves on September 1st to accept the position of Professor of Medicine and Director of the Department of Medicine at Temple University. Although his loss to the Hospital and Medical School will be felt deeply by all, it is gratifying to know that he is to become director of his own department in an important medical school. Temple University is to be congratulated upon obtaining the services of a man who has so many excellent qualifications for the position which he is to fill.

My intimate acquaintance and close association with Dr. Brown extends back over a period of thirteen years, during which time I have known him as a loyal friend, an exceedingly competent and cooperative associate and one who has never failed to extend a helping hand to those with whom he came in contact.

The successive steps of his medical career which have led to his present well deserved promotion are as follows: B. S. University of Oklahoma, 1919; M. D., University of Oklahoma, 1921; private practice, Oklahoma City, 1921-1922; House Officer in Medicine, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, 1922-1923; Resident Pathologist, Children's Hospital, Boston, 1923-1924; Instructor in Pathology Harvard Medical School, 1923-1925; Resident Pathologist, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, 1924-1925; Resident Physician, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, 1925-1927; Teaching Fellow in Medicine, Harvard Medical School, 1925-1927; Instructor in a postgraduate course in Medicine, University of North Carolina, summer of 1927; Junior Associate in Medicine, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and private practice, 1927-1928; Instructor in Medicine, Harvard Medical School, 1927-1928; Assistant Professor in Internal Medicine, University of Michigan, 1928-1929; Associate Professor in Internal Medicine, 1929-1935.

Dr. Brown can be assured that he has the warm friendship, the complete respect of every member of the Staff and our confidence that he will fulfill his new duties to the great satisfaction of both his future and old associates.—
CYRUS C. STURGIS.
