Let's Fill the Stadium

The many alumni who contributed to the cost of building the Stadium and the Oklahoma Memorial Union will have a special treat in store for them on the campus this Fall. The Union has just been completed. Climaxing ten years of effort since the main part of the building was finished in 1928, workmen put the last finishing touches on the interior finish of the south wing of the main floor only last month.

For the first time, temporary partitions and bare concrete and tile walls have been completely banished and every inch of space in the building is properly finished.

Norman committees for Homecoming were being named in September. Invitations to serve as committee chairmen had been issued to Mrs. Janet Langford, '18, general chairman; Herbert H. Scott, '26, registration; Dr. A. M. Ruggles, faculty attendance at reception and tea; and Dr. Leonard Logan, '24, fraternity and sorority co-operation.

The date for Homecoming this year is a full week earlier than last year, which is in accord with wishes expressed by many alumni; and with the Sooner football team apparently headed for an interesting season, a record Homecoming crowd may well be anticipated.

Sooners at Home and Abroad

oltita is located in a small valley with mountains rising almost vertically nearly 2,500 feet. Now, transportation is possible by tri-motor airplane which makes the trip from Mazatlan in 45 minutes, three times a week. Large freight is brought up a river 140 kilometers from the nearest railroad station, or in the dry season, by tractors.

The only picture show consists of four walls, no roof, and a canvas sheet stretched over a frame. Brinsmade adds this postscript "to the femmes: If you feel you're being neglected, visit a mining camp some time."

He is mine engineer for the San Luis Mining Company, and has had previous experience with the Real del Monte and Pachuca Company, and the American Smelting and Refining Company.

Training proves valuable

Knowledge of home making gained in the University School of Home Economics is proving of great practical value to Mrs. Frances Vestal Brintle, '35he, now living in Armenia, Caldas, Colombia, South America.

In a letter to Dr. Helen B. Burton, director of the school, and other faculty members, she comments:

Each day makes me love each of you more because now, since leaving you, I can appreciate the part each of you had in helping me to learn the things which I am now able to apply in my daily living.

You would be quite proud to own Betty Anne as one of your grandchildren. My husband and I have tried so hard to put into practice all the things I learned there. She is such a normal healthy child, and has outgrown and overcome what few undesirable habits she possessed. We have all the latest available help sent to us that we can get, to help us guide her correctly. I wish so often that I was close enough to enjoy participating in Miss Schaefer's adult classes, and to do some observing in the Nursery. Then too, I could never get too old to keep on studying and learning for my own good.

"How I do wish it were possible to send you a nice big stack of bananas, or a box of oranges, lemons and grapefruit from our farm. They just waste, we have so many, and as they are worth practically nothing, there is no market for them. The greater part of the people care nothing for them, but believe me, we eat all we can hold. They are much better to us than the fruits which we have not always been accustomed to. Then too, I know what they are, and I don't know some of the others, as to vitamin content, etc. Such things as apples, peaches, pears, and apricots can only be gotten here canned or dried, and are imported from the States. They are quite expensive and so are used quite sparingly by us, but we have them as often as we can. We are not able to get prepared cereals at all, but oats, rice, whole wheat, cream of wheat, and corn meal are very reasonable, and as the mornings are always cool we enjoy the hot cereals very much.

We buy a half gallon of milk each day, and no matter how we have tried, none of our neighbors will sell us more than that. They think we are queer to even want that much. We have our own garden and chickens so do not want for plenty of fresh vegetables and eggs. Meat is very reasonable, but we have to demand certain parts and pay extra to get what we want, as one piece is the same in price as another, and the butchers do not know that there is any special reason for cutting their meats a certain way.

I make all of our breads, pastries, and cakes. After seeing how it was made and handled here we decided to make ours. I wouldn't take anything for my knowledge in foods along that line.

Tomlin's song is winner

A song, In Ole Oklahoma, by Truman "Pinky" Tomlin, '34ex, radio entertainer and composer of a number of popular songs, was an easy winner in the contest conducted by the State Junior Chamber of Commerce for a new state song.

After hearing words and music of Tomlin's entry in the contest, the junior chamber contest committee decided that it was far ahead of the more than five hundred other contributions.

In Ole Oklahoma was formally pre-eral Symphony Orchestra at Oklahoma City which played the song in all possible variations, from swing time to symphony arrangements.

The words go like this:

In old Oklahoma
Beneath the western skies,
Where folks all say "Hi, stranger,"
And friendship never dies.
In ole Oklahoma,
Where cowboys sing all day,
The Indians play their tom toms,
To pass the time away.

Coyotes on the hilltop,
Tell their lonesome tale
They say, "Settle down, you dogies,
It's twilight on the trail."
So in ole Oklahoma,
Beneath the western sky,
I've lived there up 'til now, boys,
I'll live there 'til I die.

The song has been published in sheet music form.
