

'39 Graduates Placed Rapidly

By Sigrid Floren

MEMBERS of the record-breaking O.U. graduating class of 1939 lost no time in getting located in the business and professional world, though they scattered to twenty-nine states, the District of Columbia and even foreign lands in pursuit of their vocations.

The Alumni Office had received direct information from more than six hundred fifty members of the class as this issue of Sooner Magazine went to press, and more replies to a direct mail survey were still coming in.

Only forty-five of all those reporting failed to indicate some definite occupation.

Approximately seventy per cent of the new graduates remained in Oklahoma.

Others reported from Arkansas, California, Colorado, District of Columbia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin.

Two graduates of the medical school are serving internship in Vancouver, B.C., in Canada. An engineering alumnus is working in Winnipeg, Manitoba. In the other direction, South American oil fields have attracted four engineers who received degrees this year. A geology graduate is in the service of the Venezuelan government.

One '39 alumnus is continuing academic work as a student at Hebrew University in Jerusalem, Palestine, apparently the most distant point to which any of the '39 alumni have gone.

The occupations of the members of the class are as varied as their places of residence. Teaching claims a far greater number than any other single field, especially among those who have remained in Oklahoma. The vocations of law, engineering, nursing, pharmacy, business, medicine, journalism, and homemaking have been chosen by the majority of the remainder.

Possibly the largest group besides teachers, however, consists of more than a hundred who have remained in Norman as students in the graduate school.

Sooner Magazine has prepared the following geographical directory of the '39 graduates who have reported to the Alumni Office:
