

Placements of the '40 Graduates

New Alumni Are Finding Jobs All Over Oklahoma and in Many Other States, But They Stay Away from Foreign Nations

GRADUATES of the Class of 1940 have scattered to twenty-eight states of the Union, the District of Columbia and Canada since they were handed their diplomas in June or August. Approximately six hundred replies received by the Alumni office by mid-October from queries mailed to all of the year's graduates reveal however, that by far the greater majority of them have remained in Oklahoma.

Within the state almost two hundred towns are represented in the geographical distribution. Highest ranking cities in the number of '40 graduates residing in them are Oklahoma City, Norman, Tulsa and Muskogee, in that order.

Texas has attracted a larger number than any other state outside of Oklahoma, with Kansas being reported as residence by the third largest number. Other states included are Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia, Nebraska, and Wisconsin.

In contrast to previous years, no reports were received from graduates leaving the Americas. Several engineering students have returned or will return to their homes in South American countries, and one Oklahoma City graduate is in Toronto, Canada, studying at Toronto University, but none appear to have ventured beyond the seas.

Largest single occupational classification continues to be teaching. This is particularly noticeable among the graduates remaining in Oklahoma. Those in the larger Oklahoma towns and in other states are engaged principally in the vocations of law, medicine, pharmacy, nursing, journalism, business, and homemaking.

As may be expected, a considerable number of men graduates are at military posts in various parts of the country. Another group of appreciable size has gone to work in aircraft factories, either in designing or construction.

Only about eight per cent of those reporting said they were not employed. This figure is approximately the same as that of a year ago.

More than seventy members of the class have returned to Norman for further study at the University.

Following is Sooner Magazine's geographical directory of those '40 graduates whose replies to the Alumni office query had been received by mid-October.

Sports Review

they defeated Emporia that day 6 to 5, "None of us were making more than one mile per hour through that muck," Fred Roberts of Oklahoma recalls.

The rival players were so unrecognizable in the black goo that day that each team risked playing its own coach and nobody much would probably have been the wiser if some newspaperman who hadn't been fixed hadn't written in his story that "Coach Botsford was the star for Emporia and Fred Roberts and Coach McMahan for Oklahoma."

Although the Oklahoma team of 1904 whipped the Sulphur Springs Town team 48 to 0 in the snow at Sulphur, Oklahoma, it had met an even odder situation the year before when it traveled to Fayetteville, Arkansas, for a game with Arkansas.

Arkansas's rocky gridiron, wet from hard rains and cut up considerably because the Razorbacks later had practiced on the muddy field, was frozen hard as iron with its rough surface resembling an inverted harrow. Log fires were kindled to melt the mud but did little good, the players bruising themselves almost beyond recognition in the battle that followed.

Lewie Hardage, Oklahoma's coach from 1932 through 1934 built the finest all-weather field Norman ever saw, using sand from the nearby North Canadian river instead of earth. The Oklahoma-Kansas Homecoming Day game of 1933 was played on this field after a two-inch rain but the players held their feet beautifully as Hardage's speedy Sooners won, 20 to 0, scoring two touchdowns on fast sweeps.

However Hardage's successors wanting a finer stand of grass plowed up the field and added great quantities of Minnesota peat and that's the luxuriant Sooner field today.

Lloyd C. Mostron, '40ma, has been employed as high school mathematics teacher at El Reno. He has taught as high school teacher and principal in Minnesota and Michigan.

PATE-MAYO: Miss Jessie Lee Pate, '40, and Warren Moody Mayo, both of Ardmore, were married in September. The couple live in Ardmore where Mr. Mayo is employed at Colbert's.

RICHARDS-REED: Miss Marie Willis Richards '40ed, of Muskogee and Roy S. Reed, '34 of Tulsa, were married September 1. Mrs. Reed was a member of Gamma Phi Beta at the University. Mr. Reed is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The couple live in Tulsa.

You Can Buy Experience

Executorship of other men's affairs is a specialized business. An individual rarely has an opportunity to acquire all of the necessary qualifications for this work.

The wide experience of the Trust Department of this bank in acting as executor and trustee has given it a particular fitness for this important task. Knowledge gained through many years in caring for diversified properties enables our trust organization to achieve the utmost for estates.

Confer with one of our trust officers now about problems that are certain to arise with the administration of your estate.
