

Washington Party

The annual O.U. alumni dinner in Washington, D.C., lived up to its reputation as a brilliant affair. Here are some of the people who attended. In the picture on the right are Mrs. Walter Ferguson (Lucia Loomis, '07), newspaper columnist, and Mrs. G. B. Parker (Adelaide Loomis, '06, '10ma), wife of the editor-in-chief of Scripps-Howard newspapers. No relations, the two Misses Loomis roomed together as students at O.U.

Federal Communications Commissioner Paul A. Walker, '12law (left above) presided at the dinner as chairman of the O.U. Alumni Advisory Council in Washington. With him is Joseph A. Brandt, University president, who was honor guest and principal speaker.

The Class of '17 at O.U. has produced two United States senators and both were present for the alumni dinner. In the picture above are Senator Ernest W. McFarland, '17ba, of Arizona; Mrs. McFarland, and Senator Josh Lee, '17ba, of Oklahoma.

Three younger alumni who enjoyed the dinner session are shown above. Left to right, Virginia Hawk, '37, Mrs. Patricia Lyon Mannen, '34ed, and Mrs. Bryce N. Harlow (Betty Larimore, '39ba). Mrs. Mannen is a member of the Washington Advisory Council.

Service uniforms were sprinkled generously through the crowd of Sooners. The soldier and sailor shown below are Lt. Joe W. Simpson, '40eng, and A. C. Henderson, yeoman, second class.

Photographs on this page are presented through courtesy of the Washington Daily News and the Washington Star.

