PARTICIPATING in the tremendous raids on the Marshall Islands late in January were Lt. S. M. Abrams, '42bus, Miami, and Capt. Novel Wood, '37-'41, Norman.

Captain Wood, former O.U. football star, led a squadron of Mitchell bombers, flying as low as 50 feet over the target on one raid. His unit at one time fought off 25 Japanese planes over Maloelap atoll.

Lieutenant Abrams piloted a Mitchell bomber on raids over Maleolap and Taroa atolls.

Action at Salerno Praised

An article praising the notable performance of Lt. Col. Hal Muldrow, '28bus, Norman, during the heavy fighting at Salerno appeared in the January issue of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity magazine.

Author of the article, entitled "He Saved Salerno," is Col. Lee B. Thompson, '27law, former member of the 45th Division now with the Air Force in the Southwest Pacific. He describes Colonel Muldrow's actions during the dark days at Salerno when Allied loss of battle seemed certain.

Colonel Muldrow was credited with turning the tide by arming his artillerymen and leading them forward as infantry to force the enemy back. For previous action in the Sicilian campaign, he was awarded the Silver Star.

U.S.S. Naifeh to Be Launched

The Navy Department announced late in January that a ship to be launched on an undisclosed date at Orange, Texas, has been assigned the name U.S.S. Naifeh in honor of Lt. (jg) Alfred Naifeh, '40law, Norman, who lost his life in a Pacific Naval battle in 1942.

His mother, Mrs. Rathia Naifeh, was named sponsor of the destroyer escort and was invited to Orange to christen it. Lieutenant Naifeh was awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Medal and the Order of the Purple Heart posthumously.

Travels Many Miles

A letter describing conditions in the Mediterranean theater of war written by Bill Brinkley, '40journal, former reporter and special feature writer on the Washington Post, appeared in a recent issue of the Post.

Mr. Brinkley wrote that he had been over a good share of North Africa, most of Sicily, Naples and several of the islands of the Mediterranean, including Capri, Corsica, Sardinia and Malta. He estimated that he had traveled about 25,000 miles on three continents by land, sea and air during 1943.

"I have lived under about every sort of condition since leaving the United States," the reporter wrote. "One night you would sleep on the ground in a grove of trees and the next you would sleep in a lush villa in a

Visits Royal Family

Maj. George H. Shirk, '36law, Oklahoma City, general staff corps officer on duty in London, was one of 35 American officers invited to a party at Buckingham Palace the afternoon of November 24. A lengthy letter from Major Shirk to his mother, Mrs. Carrie Shirk of Oklahoma City, described the occasion in detail.

The group of officers was ushered into a large room, "with a bright cheery fire in one end, and furnished in very fine gilt and many colors. ... We sort of gathered in this room and stood and chatted for perhaps 15 minutes. ... Soon large double doors at the far end opened, and they were flanked with several rather stately equerries, in plenty of color, and many ribbons and medals." In the next room were King George, Queen Elizabeth and the Princesses Margaret Rose and Elizabeth.

Cards were passed in and each of the officers shook hands with each member of the royal family. "The King gave each a hearty handshake and all had a pleasant smile. ... From here we passed on across into a room that was laid with a great long table along one side, covered with countless crystal and silver appointments .. silver chafing dishes .. and several nice decanters with the finest Scotch."

Major Shirk had coffee and sandwiches with Lady Mountbatten, wife of Lord Louis Mountbatten, after which he chatted with King George. The King joked with Major Shirk about his being the tallest guest present. (Major Shirk is 6 feet, 4 inches tall.) About the King he wrote, "Very pleasant, easy talker, rather low, easy, steady voice, and most informal, with not too much of a smile at any time."

Next Major Shirk joined the group visiting with Queen Elizabeth, who also remarked on how high they grow them in Oklahoma. "She was most pleasant and gracious. Her complexion is beyond compare, and a perfect smile. ... Sparkling black hair, and never for a minute was that smile missing.

"About this time a most attractive creature came into the line of vision. ... it developed to be the Duchess of Kent. She reminds me of a college senior, quite the center of attraction of all the college dances, and that sort of thing. ... I was quite taken by her appearance and friendly, but still graceful and highly cultivated manner.

"The next person I ran into was Lady Astor. She is quite a character. I have met her before, and somewhere she got the idea I am from Texas, so she always calls me 'that long tall drink of water from Texas.' She turned me over to a friend of hers. ... the Duchess of Northumberland, who is mistress of the robes.

"She took me over to meet the two princesses. ... The older one looks exactly like her mother, only is not as natural and informal. She was a little bit more on her dignity. ... She appeared to me as one who will make a fine queen. ... The little girl is rather cute. ... When they heard I was from Oklahoma the conversation naturally got around to red Indians and oil, and they seemed enthused.

"Promptly at five, the band played God Save the King, the royal family just sort of disappeared from the group and the party was over."

Ship's Captain

Lt. Carl Carmichael, '33-'40, Norman, has been placed in command of a Naval vessel after completing training courses at Little Creek, Virginia, and Key West, Florida.

Lieutenant Carmichael received his ensign's commission at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, in 1940. He was stationed in the British West Indies and on board a mine sweeper as executive officer before returning to shore duty for further training.

Decorations

Lt. William G. Snoddy, '37-'38, We-woka, received the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters for service as a bombardier aboard a Flying Fortress in the Mediterranean theater of war.

Former electrician at Denison, Texas, Lieutenant Snoddy went overseas in April, 1943. His brother, Lt. Richard A. Snoddy, '37-'38, an Army Air Force pilot, is missing in action in the South Pacific.

► Capt. Lemuel D. (Bill) Thomas, '41ba, Ringling, received the Silver Star for gallantry during the action at Kasserine Pass in North Africa where he commanded a Field Artillery battery.

Captain Thomas later participated in the invasion of Sicily. His wife, the former Harriett Collins, '40fa, lives in El Reno.

► Lt. Bill N. Gray, '39-'41, Fort Worth, Texas, was awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster after completing 75 fighting missions against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific.

He also holds the Air Medal, awarded after 25 missions, and the Distinguished Flying Cross, given after 50. He received his commission at Foster Field, Texas.

► The Ordnance Company commanded by Lt. George McDermitt, '42eng, Norman, received the personal commendation of General Mark Clark for the excellence of its work as a unit of the Fifth Army.

Lieutenant McDermitt, first stationed in North Africa, has taken part in the invasions of Sicily and Italy. Word was received that he had been awarded the Purple Heart.

► Lt. John R. Couch, '40law, Oklahoma City, holds the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters for service as an Air Force bombardier-navigator over Sicily and Italy.

He received his commission in September, 1942, and participated in the "softening-up" raids on Sicily and Italy before the invasion took place.

► Lt. John F. Reed, '40law, Oklahoma City attorney now in the Navy, received a citation for the planning and execution of a boat group assault during the Sicilian invasion.

Lieutenant Reed was on duty at Manila at the outbreak of war and saw action in the Dutch East Indies, Australia and the Solomon Islands before returning to the United States. He participated in the recent Battle of Salerno.

► Lt. Jack R. Hodge, '41bus, Oklahoma City, member of an Ordnance unit, has been cited by the French government for setting up an assembly line for American Lend-Lease vehicles for the French Army.

He participated in the invasion of Italy after serving in North Africa.

► Lt. Corwin V. Edwards, '39law, Oklahoma City, received the Silver Star for gallantry in action with the 45th Division in Italy.

The accompanying citation stated that he directed artillery fire under heavy enemy shelling for six hours although wounded at the time. He entered service when the National Guard was mobilized in 1940.

► Capt. Allan Engleman, '36bus, Oklahoma City, Field Artillery battery commander, has been awarded the Legion of Merit for his part in the Battle of Tunisia. He recently returned to the United States.

Captain Engleman was one of the first Americans to enter Bizerte in the early days of the North African campaign and his battery was the only Field Artillery unit which the Free French Forces had before Bizerte and Tunis.

He was formerly associated with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Dallas and while attending the University was business manager of the 1936 Sooner Yearbook.

► Lt. (jg) Raymond P. Gahan, '41, Blackwell, Navy pilot in the Solomon Islands, received the Navy Air Medal for meritorious achievement while serving with a bombing squadron against the Japanese.

The citation stated that Lieutenant Gahan assisted his squadron in sinking four destroyers and severely damaging a light cruiser.

► Lt. Melvin M. Anderson, '39-'40, Oilton, of the Troop Carrier Command, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for service with the Air Force in the Southwest Pacific.

He was cited for heroism and outstanding accomplishments during more than 50 missions which included the transporting of troops and the delivery of supplies in areas patrolled by enemy aircraft.

Former pilot with the Boeing Aircraft Company in Wichita, Kansas, Lieutenant Anderson also holds the Air Medal.

► Lt. Col. J. P. Rousek, '35-'37, Muskogee, received the Silver Star in ceremonies at an unidentified base in the South Pacific. Presentation was made by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, Fifth Air Force commander.

Colonel Rousek also holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Order of the Purple Heart and the Air Medal. He served in the Panama Canal Zone before transfer to Australia.

► Lt. (jg) Jack W. Thomas, '41, Oilton, Navy pilot, received the Navy Air Medal for the excellence of his work in the Solomon Islands area.

He led his flight on 25 combat missions and personally accounted for two enemy planes. Presentation of the medal was made at Melbourne, Florida, where Lieutenant Thomas is stationed.

► Lt. Clarence B. Gregg, '38-'40, dive bomber pilot in the Solomons, received the Navy Air Medal for achievements against the Japanese while attached to a Naval aircraft group.

Lieutenant Gregg made seven attacks against enemy air bases in that area, all against heavy anti-aircraft fire. He was recently transferred to duty at Norfolk, Virginia.

► The Air Medal awarded posthumously to Capt. J. Sachse Wallace, '36-'40, Tuttle, was recently presented to his baby daughter Susan in ceremonies held at Will Rogers Field near Oklahoma City.

Captain Wallace received the award for extraordinary achievement while participating in more than 200 hours of anti-submarine patrol. He was first reported missing after failing to return from a patrol over the Atlantic but later was announced as killed in action.

In the same ceremonies at Will Rogers Field, Glen L. Dark, Oklahoma City, father of Lt. Glen L. Dark, Jr., '41, who was killed in action in North Africa, received his son's posthumous awards of the Purple Heart and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

► Sgt. Robert Perry Moss, '40, Duncan, of the Marine Corps, was cited for meritorious performance of duty by Admiral W. F. Halsey, commander of Navy forces in the Southwest Pacific.

The award was presented for his service with a Marine photographic squadron attached to an aircraft wing operating in the Solomon Islands area. Sergeant Moss is a veteran of the initial action on Guadalcanal.

► Lt. Gene Adams, '40-'42, Norman, pilot with the India-China wing of the Army Air Force, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for meritorious action against the enemy.

► Capt. Walker L. Boone, '37-'40, Wyandotte, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his service with the Eighth Air Force over Europe. Flight leader of a Fighter wing, Captain Boone has been on 50 missions against the enemy, often as escort to Flying Fortresses on bombing raids. He was awarded the Flying Cross at his base in England.

► Tech. Sgt. Rupert J. Daugherty, Jr., '32-'33, Bartlesville, aerial gunner and radio operator with a bombardment squadron, received the Air Medal for meritorious achievement while participating in 100 hours of operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific.

The citation from Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, Air Force commander in that area, stated that Sergeant Daugherty has taken part in raids on enemy airdromes and installations and attacks on enemy shipping.

► Presentation of five additional medals to Lt. Amos Battenfield, '41journ, veteran of more than 50 combat missions against the Japanese, took place in a formal military review at the Liberal Army Air Field in Kansas. Lieutenant Battenfield received an Oak Leaf Cluster denoting a second award of the Distinguished Flying Cross and four Oak Leaf Clusters to add to the Air Medal he already held.

► Lt. Melvin M. Anderson, '39-'40, Oilton, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for service "in the face of great danger, above and beyond the line of duty." The citation mentioned that he had gone on more than 50 missions to convey supplies to isolated points and transport troops through enemy-patrolled territory.

► Maj. Jack Romerman, '40law, Oklahoma City, intelligence officer in the Army Air Force, received a commendation for the excellence of his work during the fighting at Salerno. He received a similar commendation for action in the North African campaign. Mrs. Romerman is the former Janice Lee Huston, '40fa.

► Capt. Warren Morris, '41phys.ed, Tulsa, has been awarded the Order of the Purple Heart for wounds received in action with the Marine Corps in the Southwest Pacific. Former O.U. star baseball pitcher now with a Marine Artillery unit, he was with the first troops to land on the Solomon Islands, but recently was transferred from there.

► Comdr. Ira E. Hobbs, '18-'19, Marlow, received the Silver Star for heroic action as commanding officer of a U.S. warship during an attack by Japanese bombers in the Santa Cruz Islands vicinity. The citation stated that when Commander Hobbs' ship was severely damaged by fire and flooding he "coolly and tenaciously continued to fight against overwhelming odds until he eventually succeeded in saving the vessel and her personnel."

► Lt. Col. William H. Amspacher, '36 med, Norman, was awarded the Legion of Merit in England for his work as an Army Medical Corps officer in Africa and Sicily. Colonel Amspacher was transferred from Sicily to England to recuperate from an illness.

► Staff Sgt. John S. Channell, '39-'40, Binger, tail gunner on the Flying Fortress Forget-Me-Not II, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for the destruction of three enemy fighters during one flight. The entire crew of the Fortress is credited with destroying ten Nazi fighters on that one mission over Bremen.

Sergeant Channell, who also holds the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, entered the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1941 and transferred to the U.S. Army Air Force last June.

► Lt. John Coenen, '41, Sapulpa, returned to the United States from service with the Air Force in England decorated with the Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters. He was assigned to an Army Hospital to recover from a back injury.

His back was first injured when he parachuted from his spinning plane onto an English hillside and his parachute failed to open until he was nearly on the ground. Later he twisted his back while maneuvering away from a group of Focke-Wulfs while on a raid over Emden, Germany.

► Lt. John S. Walker, '38-'41, Okemah, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and an Air Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters for extraordinary achievement as an Air Force fighter pilot in the North African campaign. The citation stated that during more than 60 sorties against the enemy he "proved himself one of the most daring and skillful of P-40 pilots." Lieutenant Walker was recently stationed at the Army Air Base at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

► Capt. William H. Hoover, '38-'40, Altus, has been awarded an Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for his work with the Bomber Command in the Southwest Pacific. He also holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and is credited with 207 hours of combat.

► Capt. Harry H. Alley, '27law, member of a Fighter squadron in England, has received the Air Medal for his combat record during 16 months of service with the Eighth Air Force in the European theater. His brother, Lt. John N. Alley, '33ba, '34ma, of the Field Artillery, has been stationed in the Panama Canal Zone. They are the sons of John H. Alley, University government professor.

► Maj. Gilbert O. Halsey, '29-'30, with the Eighth Air Force in England, holds a collection of decorations including the British Distinguished Flying Cross, the American Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters. He was credited with 300 hours of anti-German operations.

► Maj. Francis R. Thompson, '37-'40, El Reno, veteran of the Pacific aerial war, has received an Oak Leaf Cluster to add to the Distinguished Flying Cross, an Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster and the Order of the Purple Heart. He served overseas with the Army Air Forces for two years and four months. He is now stationed at Lawson Field, Georgia.

Deaths in Service

Staff Sgt. Jack A. Sellers, '40-'41, Holdenville, former arts and sciences student in the University, was killed October 1 in the crash of an Army plane near Elk, California.

He enlisted in the Air Force a few days after Pearl Harbor. Before entering the University, he was associated with the Holdenville Daily News.

► Lt. Gus Kitchens, '38-'42, Sasakwa, Air Force pilot reported missing in action early in 1942, has been listed officially as killed in action by the War Department.

Lieutenant Kitchen's plane was last seen dive-bombing a munitions dump at Lae, New Guinea, and is believed to have crashed after releasing its bomb load.

Former O. U. football star, he was an arts and sciences student in the University. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Icenah M. Kitchens of Sasakwa.

► Lt. Tom W. Jackson, '34-'35, Tipton, navigator on a bomber, was killed in action with the Army Air Force in India on November 25. He held the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal.

Promoted in October to first lieutenant, he was transferred to India in March, 1943. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jackson, Tipton, and a brother, Lt. Stanley Jackson, on duty in Northern Ireland.

► Lt. Robert Gray Hamilton, '33-'35, Dallas, Texas, glider pilot, was killed in a plane crash near the Laurinburg-Maxton Army Air Base, North Carolina, on December 23.

He received his commission at Victorville, California, and has been in service for three years. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Nelle Hamilton of Dallas.

► Lt. Stevie E. Hughes, '40-'41, Altus, test pilot with the Air Service Command, was killed in an airplane crash near Hollis, Oklahoma, on December 24 while flying home for a Christmas visit.

He had flown from his post of duty at Hill Field, Ogden, Utah, and was less than 30 miles from home when the accident occurred. Officials at the Army Air Base at Childress, Texas, said the plane's emergency landing lights were on, probably indicating trouble, when it flew over that field.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lannie Hughes of Altus.

► Cpl. H. B. Lanning, Jr., '39-'41, Nowata, a veteran of the Guadalcanal campaign, was reported killed in action with the Marine Corps in the Southwest Pacific. He was a former journalism student in the University.

► Lt. Bernice C. Northcutt, '39-'42, Marine flier from Lexington, Oklahoma, was killed December 30 in a plane crash near DeLand, Florida. He was stationed at Pensacola, Florida, for special dive-bombing training.

Before entering service in September, 1942, Lieutenant Northcutt was a pre-medical student in the University. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Northcutt of Lexington, and three brothers, Lt. Carol R. Northcutt, '38-'39, San Angelo, Texas; Maj. Clarence D. Northcutt, '38law, in England, and O. V. Northcutt, '37-'41, petty officer first class stationed at White Plains, New York.

► Cpl. Ernest E. Gunter, '33-'34, Hammon, Oklahoma, was killed in action in Italy on December 20 while serving as a member of the Seaforth Highlanders of the Canadian Army. He had been overseas for 19 months.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Gunter of Hammon, his wife and baby daughter Sally of Weatherford, and a brother, Capt. Warren T. Gunter, '29-'34, with the Army Air Force at Gainesville, Texas.

► Sgt. Henry M. Porteous, '40, Calgary, Canada, was killed on a raid over Berlin on September 4 while serving as an aerial observer with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Porteous of Calgary. News of their son's death came to them through the International Red Cross.

► Capt. Abraham R. Johnston, '33-'37, Corpus Christi, Texas, was killed December 14 in the crash of an Army bomber at Omaha, Nebraska. On December 15 he was to have graduated as a B-24 pilot from Tarrant Field, Fort Worth, Texas.

Captain Johnston entered the Army with a Field Artillery commission in 1940. He later transferred to the Military Police and still later to the Air Force, receiving his pilot's wings at Pampa, Texas, on October 1, 1943.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Susan S. Johnston, '26ed, Sand Springs; two sisters, Mrs. Patricia Johnston Hoffer, '31fa, San Diego, California, and Suzanne J. Fisher, Canton, Mississippi, '24-'32, and a brother, Maj. L. A. Sybert Johnston, '36med, Del Rio, Texas.

► Warren Edward Daniel, '29, Santa Fe, New Mexico, was killed November 26 in the collision of a training plane and a bomber near Blythe, California.

Mr. Daniel, a flying instructor, had taken a student up to practice rolls. They were flying upside-down when the bomber, going into a power dive, crashed into them.

Survivors include Mrs. Arteola B. Daniel, '29fa, dramatics director of Santa Fe High School, and Vaughn Carl Daniel, '29, who is with the Army in the Pacific.

► Lt. Melvin H. Breckenridge, '40, Pond Creek, navigator on a bomber, was reported killed on a bombing raid over Germany by the War Department. Previously listed as missing in action, his death was confirmed by the International Red Cross.

Lieutenant Breckenridge held the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters. Survivors include his wife and small daughter, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Breckenridge, all of Pond Creek.

► Staff Sgt. Leon D. Jeffers, '39-'40, Paden, gunner on a bomber, was killed in a raid over Germany on December 1. He was first listed as missing in action until the International Red Cross received notification of his death.

Sergeant Jeffers enlisted in the Army Air Force two years ago. Survivors include his grandmother, Mrs. V. T. Jeffers, Paden, and several brothers and sisters.

► Word has been received of the death last July of Lt. Joe S. Rawlins, '39, Ardmore, who was a pilot stationed at Kirtland Field, Albuquerque, New Mexico. He was killed while flying in search of a group of Army pilots lost in that vicinity. Survivors include his father, Sam A. Rawlins, Ardmore, and his wife, of Houston.

► Lt. Tom Webb Jackson, '34-'35, Tipton, navigator on a bomber, was killed last November in India during action with the Tenth Air Force. He held the Distinguished Flying Cross awarded for his participation in long-range bombing attacks against enemy installations in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire and under adverse weather conditions.

Lieutenant Jackson was transferred to India in March, 1943. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jackson of Tipton.

► Lt. Harrison Smith, Jr., '42bus, Oklahoma City, Marine Corps pilot, was reported killed in action in the Southwest Pacific theater by the Navy Department.

Lieutenant Smith entered the Naval Air Service and was commissioned an ensign in May, 1943. He transferred immediately to the Marine Corps and trained at Cherry Point, North Carolina, before going overseas last fall. He was promoted to first lieutenant before leaving.

At the University Lieutenant Smith was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Smith of Oklahoma City.

Missing in Action

Lt. Sam Maupin, '39-'40, Oklahoma City pilot, was listed as missing in action a second time after a report of his rescue from the North Sea was declared erroneous.

Lieutenant Maupin was first announced as missing after a Flying Fortress piloted by him failed to return from a raid over Berlin. Erroneous news of his rescue which followed was corrected by Lieutenant Maupin's co-pilot who reported that he saw only two crew members, both sergeants, leave the plane before it crashed into the sea.

The pilot attended Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater, and played football while attending Classen High School in Oklahoma City.

► Lt. Charles Roy Mertz, '40, Ponca City, fighter pilot in the Southwest Pacific area, has been reported missing in action. Word was sent to his wife and parents in Ponca City by a friend in the same area with an Engineers unit and from a relative who was a member of Lieutenant Mertz's squadron.

► Tech. Sgt. Clarence W. Vaughn, Jr., '40-'41, radioman and gunner on a Flying Fortress, has been reported missing in action in the Mediterranean theater. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vaughn of Oklahoma City.

► Sgt. Carl Roop, '39-'42, Heavener, gunner on a Marauder bomber based in England, was listed as missing in action after his failure to return from a raid over occupied Europe in December. He is a former engineering student in the University. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roop of Heavener.

Prisoners of War

Messages from several alumni held prisoner by the Japanese government were received by their families in Oklahoma.

► A card from Pvt. Gareth E. Ruggles, '40ed, to his parents in Oklahoma City stated that he had received no mail since being captured in the Philippine Islands two years ago. He wrote, "Health improving... Have library, phonographs.

Got some Red Cross food and medicine. Everybody write! Including O. U. friends."

He added that he is working in a small clothing factory. Private Ruggles' address is 287th Prisoner of War, Tokyo Camp No. 3, in care of the National Red Cross, New York, New York. Letters of no more than 25 words may be written to him.

► On December 22 the War Department intercepted and recorded a radio broadcast by Capt. Clifford C. Hines, '34, Norman, a prisoner at the camp near Shikoku, Japan.

He reported that he is in good health, and that the 20 Oklahomans interned in the camp have formed a club. Captain Hines was taken prisoner at Corregidor.

► On a similar broadcast, picked up by an amateur radio operator on the west coast, Capt. Alex Welcher, '40geol, Norman, sent a message home.

► Shortly before Christmas Mrs. Ralph W. Hubbard, Oklahoma City, received three cards from her husband, Maj. Ralph W. Hubbard, '32med, who was taken prisoner in the Philippines. He stated that his health is fair and that he is improving under treatment.

► A card from Lt. George L. Verity, '37law, McLoud, the first from him since his capture, was received by this family. He was first imprisoned in the Philippine Islands after being captured at Corregidor, but was later transferred to Japan.

► Reported to be prisoners of the German government were Lt. Herschel Higgins, '40, Duncan; Lt. Hobart G. Osburn, '40-'41, Enid; Beverly Robert Polk, '38-'40, Alex, Oklahoma, and Lt. Ralph Casey, '34-'35, Guthrie.

► Lieutenant Higgins, a Flying Fortress pilot, was taken prisoner after failing to return from a raid over Germany in October.

► An Air Force navigator, Lieutenant Osborn was missing in action after a bombing raid over Greece on October 8 but later was reported captured.

► Mr. Polk, a member of the Air Force, is being held at a prison camp designated as Stalagluft Number 3. Through the World Student Service Fund he has applied for a correspondence course in geology from the University.

► Lieutenant Casey, Flying Fortress bombardier, was listed as missing in action after a raid on Hanover, Germany, on October 4.

► Lt. Hubert W. Fraker, '39-'42, Pine Valley, bombardier with the Air Force in England, was reported taken prisoner by the Germans following a raid over Kiel, Germany, in January. He was previously listed as missing in action.

Lieutenant Fraker is a former O.U. journalism student. Mrs. Fraker (Carol Cook, '40he), whose home is in Wilburton, lives in Oklahoma City.

► A message has been received from Lt. Paul Geer, '34-'39, Oklahoma City, a prisoner in Japan, by his mother, Mrs. A. J. Moore of Oklahoma City. The message came by short wave from Zentsuji prison camp on Shikoku Island, and was picked up by the Provost Marshal General's office in Washington, D. C.

Lieutenant Geer said that he is in good health, and sent his regards to all his Oklahoma friends. He was stationed in the Philippines with an Air Force Bombardment squadron in 1941.

Injured in Service

Lt. Harry P. Frantz, '41bus, Enid, of the Field Artillery, has been listed by the War Department as wounded in action in the Mediterranean theater. No details were released. Mrs. Frantz is the former Mary Lee Winters, '42.

► Lt. Leland S. Cope, Jr., '38-'41, McAlester, was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Tennessee while en route last month from Charlotte, North Carolina, to Oklahoma. He was taken to the Army Hospital at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Early unofficial reports revealed that he suffered three skull fractures and a broken jaw. Lieutenant Cope was coming home to be with his father, who was seriously ill in a McAlester hospital.

► Staff Sgt. Benjamin J. (Jack) Rumpel, '30-'33, Oklahoma City, was seriously wounded in action in Italy on November 6. No details of his injury or treatment were made public. Sergeant Rumpel went overseas with the 45th Division last May.

Back From Battlefronts

Lt. Col. J. Clark Selman, '38bus, Oklahoma City, was home on leave in February after more than two years' service in Australia and New Guinea with the Air Force.

Colonel Selman landed in Darwin, Australia, on February 2, 1942, and was stationed there for seven months before going to New Guinea. There he flew on numerous patrol missions and escorted bombers on missions against Japanese installations.

"I ran into more old friends down there—fellows I knew at home and went to school with at Norman—than I can find here now," Colonel Selman said after returning to Oklahoma City.

► Capt. Donald D. Hickman, '37law, Kaw, Oklahoma, of the Judge Advocate General's department in England and North Africa, has been transferred to Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., for treatment of X-ray burns on his jawbone.

Parachutes to Safety

Lt. James T. Dorland, '41, Norman, was a member of the crew of a twin-engine trainer which parachuted to safety when their plane ran out of fuel near Wrightsville, Georgia.

The landing field was obscured by smoke from a nearby forest fire and the pilot, Lt. William F. Arnold, son of screen actor Edward Arnold, was unable to set the plane down. "All that we could see were the many fires," Lieutenant Dorland said. "We just picked a spot where they were thinned out and jumped, which I was anxious to do."

The plane was on a training flight from Ellington Field, Texas, to Warner Robins, Georgia.

Promotions

Recently promoted from the rank of major were Lt. Col. Jack F. Burnett, '39med, formerly on the staff of the Scott-White Hospital at Temple, Texas, now a Medical Corps officer with the 14th Air Force; Lt. Col. Robert J. Ahern, '37-'38, El Reno, director of training at the Army Air Forces bombardier school at San Angelo, Texas.

And Lt. Col. Leroy H. Sadler, '29med, former Oklahoma City physician with the Medical Corps at Service Command headquarters in Dallas; Lt. Col. Hubert S. Judy, Jr., '40bus, Woodward, formerly with the Oklahoma Gas and Electric company, now with the Bomber Command in England, and Lt. Col. Overseas

Ensign Howard B. Upton, '43ba, Tahlequah, has been on Naval duty in England since November, 1943. His duties—as armory officer, passive defense officer, chemical warfare officer, mess treasurer, recorder in summary courts-martial and assistant communications officer—have taken him from one end of the kingdom to the other. Ensign Upton has found that British officers know more about American government than he does. Anent Anglo-American relations he wrote, "We all criticize the English for the results of their business dealings with us. I'm now convinced that we have only ourselves to blame; ours is the club to wield; we have the resources and money to dictate; we have let them outmaneuver us in international business. We are hard-headed horse traders at home, but internationally we're easy."

A recent dispatch from the Italian front concerning the capture of members of the German army who are not Germans by birth mentioned Maj. Roy Hickox, '35ba, former editor of the Guthrie Leader now with the public relations division of Allied headquarters in Italy. The dispatch said that many so-called "ersatz Germans," Poles, Austrians, etc., give themselves up willingly to American forces. Major Hickox' favorite prisoner of war yarn is about the solemn young Polish soldier who was embarrassed because he could not give Allied intelligence officers all the information they wanted about German troop movements, emplacements, arms, etc. In all seriousness he said, "If I had known you wanted to know all those things I would have taken down notes."

Capt. Nat Parham, '34-'41, Norman, Ferry Command pilot on the South America-Africa run, recently flew Pat O'Brien and Fredric March on a U.S.O. trip and took Secretary of War Frank Knox on an official trip to South America.

Army

Concern over the difficulty of eradicating malaria in the United States after infected soldiers return to their homes was expressed by Lt. Col. S. F. Wildman, '24med, former Oklahoma City physician, upon his return to the United States from North Africa recently. Colonel Wildman was with the supply division of the Medical Corps in Africa, where, he said, malaria was responsible for more casualties among the men than any other single factor. He is afraid that men with malaria will scatter before they recover, and that eradication of the disease will prove a difficult problem. Colonel Wildman himself had two attacks of malaria while in North Africa.

Lt. Comdr. Neville Bowers, '39med, Oklahoma City, returned to the United States last month from the Southwest Pacific, where he has been serving with the Navy Medical Corps since the first days of the war. He has been stationed on board the U.S.S. Saratoga, at Guadalcanal, and more recently on Tarawa and the Gilbert Islands. Upon returning to this country he went to Washington, D. C., for reassignment.
