

Association Progress

ALUMNI SECRETARY Ted Beaird set forth on a Riding the Range mission late in November during which he visited alumni groups in several cities and helped establish Alumni Charter Club No. 13 in New York City.

Secretary Beaird's travels took him clear to the east coast with stops in Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Indianapolis, Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Maryland. Along the way he found that O. U. folks, though far from the campus and busy with their own affairs, are still vitally interested in the progress of the University and plied him with questions about the University's growing educational program.

Mr. Calvert is a member of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi honorary scientific society. He and Mrs. Calvert have three children, Robert, Carol and George Edward.

Meeting at Stillwater

Members of the O. U. Alumni Club at Stillwater entertained on December 1 at a dinner in honor of President and Mrs. Cross and persons attending the Oklahoma Academy of Science meeting at A. and M. College that weekend.

Paul Pearson, '23, president of the newly organized Stillwater O. U. Alumni Club which has been chartered as the eleventh club, presided.

President Cross spoke on problems of higher education in Oklahoma. Dr. H. G. Bennett, president of A. and M. gave an address of welcome.

Mr. Pearson, former druggist in Altus, recently moved with his family to Stillwater where he is continuing in the drug business.

Bartlesville Club Chartered

Approximately 130 O. U. alumni gathered in Bartlesville on December 15 for a dinner meeting of the Bartlesville Alumni Club which was recently organized and chartered as Alumni Club No. 12. Arrangements for the dinner were made by D. E. (Bill) Hodges, '24law, president of the group.

Among the speakers at the affair were John Kane, Bartlesville attorney and chairman of the State Regents for Higher Education; Don Emery, '21law, of the O. U. Board of Regents, and President George L. Cross.

Toastmaster was Mr. Hodges who was elected president of the Alumni Club at a business session. Other officers are Merle Glasgow, '32m.ed, vice president, and Lois Straight, '35law, secretary-treasurer.

Ted Beaird, alumni secretary, presented charter No. 12 to the group at the dinner.
