Governor Robert S. Kerr, '16, recently joined in an appeal by the American Society of Newspaper Editors to the United Nations economic and social council urging world freedom of information.

Kerr wrote as follows to Wilbur Forrest, president of the society:

"I wish to commend you and others for your efforts in talking to the assembly of the United Nations, which is to meet in New York some time in September, the issue of world freedom of information.

"I subscribe to the principle that a free flow of appropriately pertinent information between nations is vital to future peace and that international understanding is much more likely to become a reality if predicated upon this basis.

"It is hoped that this movement will continue effectively and that freedom of the press may continue to be a bulwark of democracy in America as well as a guiding light to the peoples of the world."

Here is WHAT the U.P. release said some weeks ago about this Sooner Son—O.U.

"Oklahoma City, Sept. 30—(U.P.)—Gov. Robert S. Kerr today informed his office that he had cancelled a talk in Detroit Saturday night to fly to Washington and speculation immediately arose in political circles that he might be offered the cabinet post vacated by Henry Wallace. Kerr's office staff said the Detroit speech had been postponed indefinitely. The governor, en route today from LaFayette, Indiana, to Logansport, Indiana, for a speech in the latter city tonight, did not explain reasons for the postponement. The governor, who was prominently mentioned last spring as a possible successor to Harold L. Ickes when Ickes resigned as Secretary of Interior, keynoted for the 1944 Democratic national convention. He is considered in political circles here and in Washington as a close advisor of President Truman and other Democratic party leaders on domestic affairs." (Note by Ed—It is now six weeks since the U.P. release—Bob Kerr is still Governor of Oklahoma.)
