

In Sugar Bowl

Bobby Goad—a little guy (167 pounds) who gets the job done against bigger men—caught five passes during the season for 93 yards and one touchdown—another Muskogee native—three-letter man—married—24, 6-1.

Kenneth Tipps—good receiver who can run—25, 6-3, 197—married—lettered last year as a reserve end—kicks off—snagged four passes for 71 yards and one touchdown in 1948—from Oklahoma City—engineering major.

Frankie Anderson—shifted to end in spring practice after lettering at guard in 1947—squad's leading pass-catcher with nine grabbed for 215 yards and a pair of counters—Oklahoma City Northeast boy—19, 6-0, 195.

Ed Lisak—tough sophomore who doubles at offensive right end and defensive right halfback—scored one touchdown on a pass—outstanding for his teeth-jarring tackles on defense—21, 6-0, 183, from Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Reece McGee—speedy Norman sophomore—played principally at defensive halfback against passing—good pass receiver—part Cherokee Indian—played center and quarterback in high school—18, 6-1, 177.

Faculty

- ▶ E. E. Hatfield, '36m.bus, associate professor of secretarial science, is chairman of bookkeeping and accounting roundtable of the National Business Teacher's Association.
- ▶ George A. Hoke, '35Law, '36ma, associate professor of economics, has served as city attorney for Durant and Stillwater.
- ▶ Leonard H. Haug, who dreams up all those fancy formations for the University marching band, told how he does it at a national meeting. He attended the annual session of college band directors in Chicago, December 12 and 15. Haug has directed the O.U. band since September, 1945.
- ▶ Dr. John E. Fazekas, native of Hungary and assistant professor of geology, formerly taught at the Technical and Economic University of Budapest.
- ▶ Carl Mason Franklin, executive vice president of the University, served two years as registrar and comptroller at the University of Alaska.
- ▶ Dr. Roy Gittinger, '02ba, regents professor of history, has held administrative positions under every O.U. president from David Ross Boyd to George L. Cross.
- ▶ Dr. George J. Goodman, professor of plant sciences, is curator of O.U.'s Bebb herbarium, which contains more than 100,000 plant specimens.
- ▶ James G. Harlow, '33ms, '31ba, director of the University's High School Science Service, formerly taught public schools at Hobart, Seminole and Oklahoma City.
- ▶ A. Laurence Mortensen, drama professor, joined the Sooner faculty in 1945. He had previously served in Nebraska high schools and at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri.
- ▶ Dr. Glenn C. Couch, '31bs, '37ms, dean of the University College, graduated from Helena High School with the class of 1927.

- ▶ Wilbur F. Cloud, '25ba, '26ms, professor of petroleum engineering, is a member of the educational committee of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.
- ▶ Thurman White, '41ms, acting director of the University Extension Division, has been named president's deputy for the Film Council of America.
- ▶ Raymond R. White, '41m.com.ed, associate professor of secretarial science, is national president of Pi Omega Pi, commercial teachers group.
- ▶ John W. Morris, '30ed, associate professor of geography, is state coordinator for the National Council of Geography Teachers.
- ▶ Dr. Leonard Logan, '14ba, sociology professor, serves as director of the University Institute of Community Development, founded in 1945 to help communities solve industrial and planning problems.
- ▶ Dr. Howard O. Eaton, associate professor of philosophy, is a charter member of the Research Committee on International Federation.
- ▶ Dr. Nathan A. Court, mathematics professor, could neither read nor write a word of English when he came to the U. S. in 1911. Upon his arrival, he began learning the language at Columbia University and within a few months was instructing classes.
- ▶ Dr. J. Teague Self, '36ph.d., Chairman of the Zoological Sciences Department, has written numerous articles for scientific journals. Major study by the O.U. faculty member is in the field of malaria control.
- ▶ Nico van Wingen, engineering professor, is a native of Amsterdam, Holland. He attended school in Zurich, Switzerland.
- ▶ Anatol Helman, associate professor of architecture, practiced as an architect in Poland, Iran and Lithuania before coming to the U. S. Since 1944, Helman has worked with a New York construction firm, as set designer for west coast motion picture studios and with Dallas architects.

- ▶ R. Boyd Gunning, '37ba, '39Law, executive secretary of the University of Oklahoma Foundation, is chairman of the audio-visual aids committee of the National University Extension Association.
- ▶ Dr. H. H. Rowley, associate professor of chemistry, is district counselor for Alpha Chi Sigma, national chemistry professional fraternity.
- ▶ Carl D. Riggs, zoology instructor, is author of several articles about fish and is currently doing research on fishes in Oklahoma.
- ▶ J. L. Rader, '08ba, '13ma, librarian is a specialist in the field of rare books and first editions. Of the 1,000 books in his personal library, over 100 are first editions.
- ▶ Dr. Fayette Copeland, '19ba, director of the School of Journalism, is one of four students who founded the Oklahoma Daily, student newspaper. The Daily was first published in 1916.
- ▶ Dr. J. E. Fellows, dean of admissions and records, attended the quarterly session of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools recently in Chicago, Illinois. Dr. Fellows, who is also chairman of the executive and teacher education committees, said the Armed Forces are asking the association to reorganize dependent schools set up in Japan and other occupation zones.

Films Completed

Two educational films have been completed by the University photographic service, Thurman White, '41ms, acting director of the extension division, announced. "How to Fly the Aeronica" is being used for classroom work in flight training at O.U. Another film, which covers activities of the women's physical education department, will be shown to groups off the campus.