

Hey COTTON BOWLERS!

The four ends—Jimmy Owens, Ken Tipps, Bobby Goad and Frankie Anderson—with the pleased expressions have just heard, no doubt, of Grantland Rice's prediction of top national football honors for the Sooners and of the approaching Cotton Bowl Game with Texas U. October 8.

The Dallas Club Has Plans

There's another group of Sooners thinking about that game. Of course, all Sooners are thinking about Texas, but there's one group who has a special interest. That's the Dallas O.U. Alumni Club who have arranged for a big get-together and gab fest immediately following the game. There's all sorts of things on the program. Pictures, refreshments and everything that goes with a victory celebration. Large place cards will be placed indicating where each graduating group will gather.

The Time and Place

Immediately following the game go to the Picnic Pavilion just back of the big score board. The ramp between sections 31 and 32 will lead you to it.

Join the Fun

All former Sooners and their friends are invited to the grand openhouse. And by the way—If its time for you to renew your membership in the Association, don't wait until you miss your first copy of Sooner Magazine. Just send $3 to the University of Oklahoma Association, Norman, and be all set for another year. And while you are at it, why not make sure that alumni friends of yours hear of the bangup affair in Dallas and of the way to become a member in—
