Sooner Clears Censor

10 Years Ago

Sooner Magazine heard from Christine Squire, 33ba, 40ma, first girl editor of the Oklahoma Daily. She reported she had left the University of Minnesota Press to take a position with the Farm Security Administration at Milwaukee. Now she is a radio and freelance writer in Chicago.

Professors' right to the championship title in forgetfulness was challenged by a law school grad. Upon being invited to come back to the class reunion in June, he wrote the alumni office inquiring, "What class do I belong to, if any?"

Both romance and a career came during the summer to Annete Burford, '38, of Oklahoma City. In July she won first place in the annual nation-wide contest conducted by the Chicago Opera Company to select new talent for the company. A few weeks later she was married to William Gordon Stuart, '39eng.

Midge Pyle, '38, had the distinction of being the first red-haired hostess for the Braniff Air Lines. She was a member of Delta Gamma Sorority while attending the University.

Sooner Magazine was relieved in '40 to find that censors did not consider the Sooner guilty of trying to conduct espionage through its Engineer Alumni Directory. A request for a copy was received from Abbas S. Siahpoosh, '36eng, '37geol, Teheran, Iran. The envelope bore a label "Opened by Censor" and was stamped "Passed—Censor."
