

It hasn't taken summer session students long to find the coolest spot on the campus. Already boasting the best food and service for students and former students, the Union's air-conditioning has enhanced the dining atmosphere.

With a variety of menus to choose from, the Will Rogers cafeteria can challenge any similar establishment to a comparison of quality food at low prices.

The jewel of the Union's food services continues to be the Ming Room. With surroundings rich as jade and food that would satisfy an Oriental potentate, the dining room's popularity has continued to prosper.

As has been previously mentioned in this space, the two major dining areas are operating on a schedule that offers 7-day-a-week service. The Will Rogers cafeteria is closed only Sunday evening and the Ming Room is closed only Sunday noon.

The Memorial Union's air-conditioning has made the newly dedicated Ted Beaird Memorial Lounge one of the most inviting spots for student study or relaxation. For summer living, the Union is the campus spot.
