

OKLAHOMA DAILY—University of Oklahoma officials revealed today that the current campus parking situation was “becoming a problem.” Particularly troublesome is the way some students park during rush periods, creating, a spokesman said, “rather a bother at times.”