

OKLAHOMA DAILY—Revealing a new “get-firm” policy, the administration today told students that delinquent fees would have to be paid immediately. But for those students short of cash, officials offered a new system providing temporary university-sponsored loans.