

YOU PLAY SOCCER

labakkal

(WITH THE FEET)

Zsolt Szilagyí kicks the ball past two Kansas men. O.U. won its soccer game with Kansas, 3 to 1. Zsolt is from Szeged, Hungary. He came to the United States after the unsuccessful Hungarian revolution. He is a sophomore, majoring in physics. He is also a "sub" on O.U.'s swimming team.

con los manos

(WITH THE HANDS)

Francisco Humeres, Caracas, Venezuela, and Team Captain Jorge Pacheco, La Paz, Bolivia, demonstrate the proper — and Latin—use of the hands while playing soccer: use them only when arguing with the umpire.

yung toh

(WITH THE HEAD)

Edgar Lie Kon Paun executes the game's most spectacular shot—hitting the ball with one's head. Juan Sensano of Lagunillas, Bolivia, races past the Kansas men to assist with Edgar's shot. Edgar is studying sanitary engineering at O.U. on a Point Four scholarship. He is from Hong Kong and Surinam. Juan is a geology major.