

Sooner

MAGAZINE

Volume 34 Number 2 October, 1961

The Meaning of Greatness

3

A great university in Oklahoma can have a far-reaching effect on every area of life in the Southwest. This need for excellence, as stated here by leaders from many fields, is the reason behind the University's new development program.

The Luck of the Cartwrights

12

So you think superstitions are relics of a bygone age? A science teacher at the University School doesn't agree, and as an expert on the occult, he very well could be right.

New Deans Take Over Old Colleges

14

The Regents have given fine arts and the graduate college new deans—and they are men who will never be content with less than the best in the programs they direct.

The Golden Days

17

The most popular guessing game among Sooner alumni—identification of their classmates from the "Golden Days"—continues this year with photos from the inexhaustible Heffner collection and the Sooner Magazine files.

also in this issue

Sooner Scene . . . Page 2
Roll Call . . . Page 18
Sooner Profiles . . . Page 18
Letters from Alumni . . . Page 23
Backlog . . . Page 24

the cover

The University scene is changing—just ask any visiting alumnus. Few students remember this carefully landscaped garden between the statue and the library as the busiest street on campus. O.U. planners began altering the traffic pattern two years ago to reduce the noise and congestion on the South Oval.

PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA ASSOCIATION

Editor: Carol J. Robinson Executive Editor: R. Boyd Gunning Editorial Assistants: Connie Ruggles, Bob Carey, Joe Davis

Sooner Magazine is published monthly (except June and August) by the University of Oklahoma Association, Union Building, Norman, Oklahoma. Second-class postage paid at Norman, Oklahoma. Subscription $2.00 per year (does not include Alumni dues). Single copies 25 cents. Opinions expressed are those of the editor and do not necessarily represent official action of the Alumni Executive Board. Member of American Alumni Council.