

The Act of Violence

The Act of Violence

2

The malicious abnormalities that motivate violence and death in a civilized society are examined by Dr. Louis J. West, who is the O.U. School of Medicine's director of psychiatry, neurology and behavioral sciences.

A Reach for Greatness

6

Members of O.U.'s National Council hear an encouraging progress report when they gather at the Center for Continuing Education to discuss the future of the University's Plan for Excellence, the blueprint for academic greatness.

McCarver of the Cards

10

Following a great season as No. 1 catcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, Tim McCarver, the National League's outstanding sophomore of 1963, rushes back to college to continue his pursuit of a degree in business management.

O.U. and Mr. Conant

14

The study of an important new book on American teacher education and a view of teacher education at O.U. are the subjects of this commentary on commentaries by Dr. James G. Harlow, dean of the University's College of Education.
