Why are you working for the University's Alumni Development Fund?

MRS. GUY LEACH
(Patti Webb, '46bus)
Amarillo

MRS. LEACH—When I was asked to state my reasons for supporting the ADF, I was reluctant to do so because I really had never given it much thought. Each year my husband and I had automatically responded to the ADF drive, because it seemed a good cause and the proper thing to do; and it was an income tax deduction. After attending the Amarillo ADF conference at the Center for Continuing Education and learning first hand of the needs of the University and how the ADF monies are being used, the real reason for my participation in this great endeavor came into focus. By supporting the ADF, I am in a small way helping repay the previous generations who had the vision and foresight to establish and enlarge the University so that anyone who desired a higher education had the opportunity at the University. By personally contacting other alumni in Amarillo and explaining to them the need for additional funds, I feel that our financial assistance, along with that of other alumni from near and far, will help the ADF to continue its goal of making the University of Oklahoma a great university.

LOKEY—First, I feel a sense of loyalty to the University which gave me an education. This sense of loyalty coupled with a feeling of pride for O.U. has continued to grow in the few years I have been out of school. I believe that working for the ADF and giving to it are essential for an alumnus if he is sincerely interested in seeing his University grow and improve. I am impressed with the way the fund has helped the University. I want to be a part of it. And I particularly want to see gifts to the unrestricted fund portion of the ADF increase. This money which is used for the most immediate needs is the most important, I feel.

Development Fund?

G. DON CURPHEY, '51bus
McCormick Advertising Company
Amarillo

CURPHEY—I believe one of the most significant things about the ADF to those of us who live outside the state is that it offers us a way, the only way we have, to contribute something to the school that gave us so much when we were students. We really contribute nothing unless we participate in the ADF. Our taxes do not help our alma mater. Only by giving our time and money to the Alumni Development Fund can we have a part in what our University is and grows to be. I value what I received from the University, and I feel obliged to give it something. I contributed nothing to it while I was a student. Now it's time for reciprocity, especially now that I live outside of Oklahoma.

C. TAYLOR YOAKAM, '54bus
landman, Cities Service Oil Company
Amarillo

YOAKAM—This question would have been more difficult to answer had it been asked prior to a most enlightening Saturday morning conference on the past November 2 weekend in Norman. Several of us from Amarillo, Texas, attended this conference concerning the personal solicitation phase of the ADF. I was most impressed with the different aspects of the drive and, in particular, the many important things that ADF enables the University to do which would normally be difficult or impossible without it. Since it is such support as this which could make the University of Oklahoma the top state university in the nation, it is a pleasure to be a part of its endeavor.
