

Informal seminars are often the rule during the summer session.

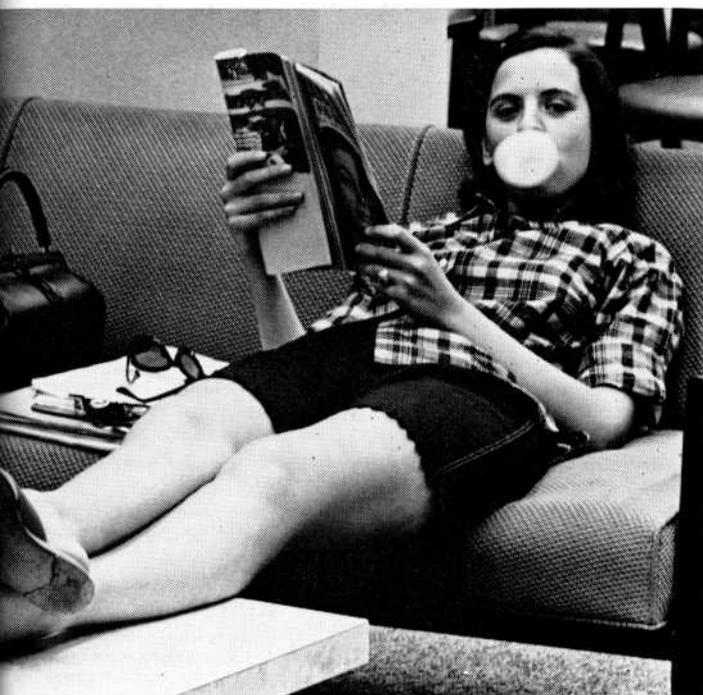

The Rigors of Summer

*or how I stopped studying and learned to love
the season*

A record 5,283 students are enrolled in school at Norman this summer, and a recent study (conducted by whom is not certain) showed most (99.44 per cent) to be diligent in their studies. Photographer Mike Durham was asked to capture the meditative mood of the campus one July afternoon. The pictures you see on these pages are the result of his labor.

There is an abundance of wild life at OU—wildlife, that is.

The library is a favorite study location.

Liberal OU has shown enthusiasm for the topless bathing suit.

Summer afternoon—summer afternoon; to me those have always been the two most beautiful words in the English language.—Henry James to Edith Wharton.

Of course, not every minute is spent in intellectual pursuits.
