

an acre of seats in a palace of splendor!

(Photo courtesy the Helgeson collection)

Number 27 in a series – By Bill Peterson

THE ST. LOUIS THEATRE – St. Louis, Missouri

This 4000 seat house was designed by C.W. and George L. Rapp, and opened in 1925. The organ was a 4-manual Kimball. The theatre has been completely refurbished and is now named Powell Symphony Hall, the home of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.