On Sunday, October 21, W.R.T.O.S. met at Ruth and Milo Swanson's home to hear their fine 2/7 Barton (1928) which they obtained from the Lloyd's Theatre in Menominee, Michigan during 1967. With much energy and care, Ruth and Milo stripped their 2/7 Barton down through several layers of age to its original mahogany finish. Now refinished, and in mint condition, it was played that afternoon by Ken Demko, our "Mr. Magic", who knows where to find tunes for everyone's pleasure.

October stayed awhile for the Western reserve... and on the 27th we went for a visit "Down Memory Lane" with "Cran" Hendershott as our eloquent guide. We travelled lightly, and unpacking was a snap as our suitcases were filled only with nostalgia and enthusiasm for the older rhythms; the TV and Radio anecdotes of another era; the songs of a time when travelling was by train; the sound track melodies of the epic-type movies, no longer produced; the sing-alongs when people weren't afraid to share themselves; and the classics — complex and beautiful.

The silent movie was a comic one, Her Bridal Nightmare (1927) with Colleen Moore, Helen Darling, Earl Rodney and Eddy Barry. "Cran" truly took us on an enjoyable trip and aptly dropped us off home with an encore song memento, "Memory Lane", of course!
